

FEBRUARY 14, 2008 MEMORIAL PROJECT
RESEARCHERS USE POLICY

The 2/14 Memorial Project was established to document the tragic events of February 14, 2008 on the Northern Illinois University-DeKalb campus. Documentation includes manuscripts and audiovisual materials as well as artifacts left at the various spontaneous memorials on campus.

The 2/14 archives will not be available to the general researcher. The collection is accessible for scholarly, educational, and journalistic purposes only. We will consider all specific requests for access and use; however, the collection is not open to random browsing. Prior arrangements should be made for scholarly research and study. Credit line should read, Regional History Center, Northern Illinois University.

The use of the collection for research or publication will be consistent with the laws and University policies concerning Freedom of Information Act disclosures, copyright, privacy, publicity, obscenity and pornography, defamation and resource protection.

Researchers interested in viewing the memorial items including the MLK Commons panels will be able to view both through the online exhibit located on the February 14, 2008 Memorial Collection website.

Please fill out the bottom half of this form for permission to do research in the February 14, 2008 Memorial Collection.
